BE A PART OF THE STUDENT SUCCESS STORY

Become a part of the BEOC Student Success Story by working with the Career Resource Center (CRC). The Career Services staff provides career advisement and placement assistance to students and graduates. The career advisors and job developers coordinate mandatory workshops, develop and post internship and job opportunities, and coordinate recruitment events and job fairs throughout the year.

All students, no matter the program of study, are eligible for the professional development services provided by CRC. BEOC strives to provide a holistic approach to career preparation by offering a variety of employment paths. Students who are interested in getting the most out of their BEOC experience, are strongly encouraged to contact the Career Resource Center at CareerCenter@beoc.cuny.edu

Mariama Diallo
Medical Assisting
Fall 2018 grad

I attended the workshops provided by Career Services. I met with my advisor, Ms. Paolino, who assisted me with obtaining an internship in an OB/GYN office. I am proud to say that I was able to become a Certified Clinical Medical Assistant (CCMA).

Ximena Ortiz
Medical Assisting
Spring 2020 grad

Ms. Ortiz was a participant in the Integrated English Literacy and Civics Education (IELCE) program, funded by a Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act grant administered by the Continuing Education department at City Tech. BEOC provided the workforce training.

Patrice Harris
Medical e-Records
Fall 2019 grad

I started my job search but was unsuccessful. BEOC career counselors helped me with my resume - and finally, to my surprise, Winston Staffing hired me.

COVID + CREDIT: NEW SCAMS PUT IDENTITY AT RISK DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

Article by Equifax.com | Knowledge Center page

How to Better Protect Your Identity from Covid-19 Scams

- Frequently check your savings, checking, credit card and other key financial accounts for unauthorized charges or withdrawals.
- Contact your bank as soon as you notice any suspicious activity on your account.
- Frequently change your online passwords to better protect your information from data breaches.
- Remove personal information from your social media accounts.
- If your identity has been used to cash your stimulus check or apply for unemployment or other benefits, file a report with the relevant authorities.

Federal, state and city governments have taken steps to provide financial help to Americans during the pandemic. Unfortunately, some bad actors have used the recently relaxed eligibility requirements for state and federal aid to unleash new scams, stealing the identities of the people who most need help. Watch out for these new scams making the rounds during the Covid-19 pandemic:

Covid-19 Scam #1: Stolen Federal Stimulus Payments

Federal stimulus payments have proven to be an easy target for scam artists. Basic personal information can be stolen in a variety of ways, including through data breaches, fake websites asking for personal information, scam calls and phishing emails.

Covid-19 Scam #2: Scam Artists Impersonating Government Agencies

The FBI warns not to click links or open attachments from senders you do not recognize, as those actions can unlock malware and allow scammers to either steal personal information or lock your computer and demand payment. Consumers should also be wary of visiting websites or using apps claiming to track Covid-19 cases worldwide, as criminals are using these portals as a way to deliver malware to phones and personal computers.

Covid-19 Scam #3: Delivery Scams

If you're older, immune-compromised or taking care of someone who is, you may need groceries or necessary medications delivered to your door. Ordering from a trusted source online is a safe way to go, but beware if someone you don't know well offers to help. Some scammers may offer to purchase and deliver your supplies but never return with the promised items while taking off with your money.
